PRICES OF IRON AND STEEL ARE ALL TO BE ADVANCED.

Representatives of All Manufacturers Assembled to Fix a Schedule for Year.

New York, Nov. 17 .- The Nut and Bolt Association, composed of all the leading manufacturers in the trade, have met here to consider trade conditions and decide whether advanced prices were warranted

After the meeting adjourned one of those present said that all prices had been annulled and an adjournment taken until December 21, and that a new schedule will be taken up then.

Steel trade affairs are just now attracting much interest in the financial district, owing to the fact that all the important steel and iron manufacturing concerns of the country have representatives here attending conferences regarding new price schedules

A year ago this week another gathering of steel men of the United States was held in this city to consider the condition of the market, and to readjust prices. On that occasion the end in view was to re-duce prices to a level that might tempt haves.

duce prices to a level that might tempt buyers.

The present meetings are for the purpose of readjusting the scales on a higher basis, due to a revived demand. Prices for billets, bolier tubes, wire nails, wire goods, sheets and tin plate already have been advanced. No change was made in the prices of plates, structural materials and nuts, but they are to be considered bebefore the meeting ends.

It is stated that one of the most important matters in the trade—the price of steel rails—will not be touched upon at the present time, owing to negotiations pending between the rail pool and a large independent company, to which the matter of prices is considered as entirely secondary. It is expected by the leading interests that an adjustment will be reached, and that the railmakers of the country will meet some time next month and arrange prices for 1906.

Failure

To cure indigestion is largely due to the old theory that when the stomach becomes inactive it needs something to mechanically digest its contents, and cathartics, purgatives, etc., are used, which give only temporary relief, because they digest by irritating the lining of the somach. The nerves agitate and mix the food and timulate the secretions. When they become weakened they lack energy, and inligation, dyspepsia, sour stomach result.

> Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine

Will relieve obstinate cases of indigestion, dyspepsia and stomach trouble by strengthening these nerves. "I had severe stomach trouble. Dr. Miles' Nervine and Nerve and Liver Pills cured ine. I can now eat anything without trou-ble."

Lawyer in Sing Sing Makes Medi cal Discovery Which May Acquit Him of Murder.

INVESTIGATION IS STARTED.

Imprisoned Man Falls Upon Evidence Which Physicians Overlooked in Autopsy in Celebrated Poisoning Case.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL

New York, Nov. 17 .- New evidence which may have an important bearing on the case of Albert T. Patrick, a lawyer, who is in Sing Sing Prison condemned to death for the murder of William M. Rice, was discussed last night by the members of the Medico-Legal Society at the opening session of the year in the Waldorf-As-toria. The discussion was brought about by the presentation to the society by Samuel Bell Thomas, a lawyer, and secretary of the society, of the question:

"Will the embalming of a body before rigor mortis sets in, without the withdrawal of any blood from the body, produce the same effect of congestion of the lungs as that produced on the lungs by vapor poisoning?' In presenting the ques tion Mr. Thomas said he had been called to Sing Sing a few days ago by Patrick who had conceived the idea and who wished to use it in his defense should another trial be granted to him.

Mr. Thomas said that for two months Patrick had been reading medical works and in the course of his research had fallen upon some passages that had indicated to him, although his knowledge of medicine is slight, that the effect would be the same in either case in the treatment indicated in this question.

On his trial certain persons testified that they had embalmed Mr. Rice's body within a few hours after death and before rigr mortis had set in. Doctors who testi fied to having performed an autopsy on the aged man's body said they had found marked congestion of blood in the lungs, which could have been caused only by asphysiation due to vapor poisoning.

It was upon this point, more than upon any other, that Patrick was convicted. The question which now arises was not thought of then, nor was the question thought of then, nor was the question raised if the same effect could be produced by any other means.

In presenting the case to the Medico-Legai Society, Mr. Thomas asked the members not to consider it at all in relation to the Patrick case, but as subject for medical research, and in aid of all humanity. He said he mentioned the Patrick case only to give an idea what lines he wished the investigation made.

TO APPOINT CHEMISTS TO APPOINT CHEMISTS.

Doctor Clark Bell, president of the sodety, was requested to appoint three of the leading chemists of the country to the leading chemists of the country to determine the question, and before the meeting adjourned it was definitely decided that the society would try to decide the question, which will shave so great a bearing on Patrick's future.

It was explained that no blood had been taken from Rice's body before it was embaimed. The embalming fluid was forced into the veins and arteries, thereby pushing the blood back through all of its channels to the chambers of the heart. From that point the general argument was that the blood had gone to other parts of the body, probably to the lungs, where it congoaled, and might have caused conditions similar to those brought about by vapor poisoning.

about by vapor poisoning.

Many prominent physicians were presmeating, and among them not Many prominent physicians were present at the meeting, and among them not a dissenting voice was heard to the general opinion. Every one held the view that like results might have been produced by the two means. Chemists of such prominence and authority will be called upon to bass on the question that it will be incontestible, and should the appeal which Patrick has taken be favorably heard by the Supreme Court, without any expense to him, the chief evidence against him will be in question.

Mr. Thomas is preparing an exhaustive brief on the subject, and should the chemists concur in the general opinion expressed to-night, he will embody their report in the appeal which has been made for a new trial.

Constable John J. SURGEONS DISCUSS MODERN METHODS

Doctor Gilbert Says First Duty Is to Injured Man, Regardless of What It May Cost Corporation.

New York, Nov. 17 .- Modern methods of surgery, as applied on the great railroads of the country, were considered and discussed to-day at the annual meeting of the New York and New England Association of Railroad Surgeons.

The opening session was devoted to the discussion of the general subject of "Sur-gical and Relief Service on Railways." Several papers were read by the repre-sentatives of Western and Southern roads on the operation of special relief and hospital departments in connection also with the claims department, which prevails to a much larger extent on the Western railroads than it does on the roads of the East, Among the papers read were the following:

East. Among the papers read were the following:

Transportation of the Injured With a Modern Hospital Car," by Doctor D. S. Fairchild, surgeon of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, and "Company Hospital System With a Chief Surgeon, Its Relations and Value to the Claims Department," by J. D. M. Hamilton, chief claims attorney of the Santa Fe Railroad, and a general discussion of the topic by Doctor J. P. Kaster, chief surgeon of the Santa Fe. Mr. Hamilton credited the claims department with having served to establish more friendly relations between the railroads and the public, and noted the dependence of this branch of railroad nanagement on the hospital and relief department.

Doctor L. L. Gilbert of the Pennsylvania Railroad said the first duty of the surgeon was to the injured person, regardless of the effect his case might have on the treasury of the corporation.

At the business session in the afternoon Doctor J. P. Conn of Concord, N. H., was elected prosident and Doctor George Claifes of Epooklyn secretary.

OFFICIALS OPPOSE RATE REDUCTION.

State That Cost of Transporting Cattle and Attendants Is Very Heavy.

Chicago, Nov. 17.-Many reasons were offered by railroad officials at to-day's hearing of the Interstate Commerce Commission on cattle rates, why the presen rates on live stock should be maintained. According to testimony of C. F. Resseguie district general superintendent of the St. Louis and San Francisco road, cattle taken from Texas to the Northern ranches are so poorly fed that some of them are un-from Texas to the Northern ranches are so poorly fed that some of them are unable to stand on their feet while the train is in motion, and many of them die in the cars. Mr. Resseguie declared that the railroads were held responsible for the safe delivery of these animals, and, therefore, were compelled to pay heavy damages to the shippers.

H. H. Embry, general freight agent of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company, in his testimony, gave a summary of the reasons furnished by railroad men for maintaining the present rates for live stock.

Mr. Embry said: "I believe the present rate is entirely reasonable and just. This matter of furnishing free transportation to men accompanying live-stock shipments alone is quite an item. The free transportation given in this way last year, figured at the regular rate of 5 cents per mile, would amount to $683,000. Of course, this is not a direct loss, but many of these persons would have made the trip and paid their fare if the privilege had not been grented. Besides this, they occupy space in our parior and alseping cars that might be occupied by paying passengers."

The commission will not adjourn before Saturday afternoon.

Colonel Hayes says he has one-half mil-lion dollars to spend for land in the South-west, upon which to colonize the working people of the larger cities, and that he in-tends to give them the land, furnish them tends to give them the land, furnish them homes upon the property and provide for their support for necessary time until they have earned enough from the soil to pay for it on small annual payments.

He has contracted to dispose of the land to the working class on ten years' time at no increase whatever in price and without interest. Colonel Hayes is a world-wide traveler and is a personal friend of George Gould of New York, who is said to be concerned in this movement of the working people to large tracts of farming land in the great Southwest.
